

PERFORMING_ARTS_LAB

An ibugi project

The PERFORMING_ARTS_LAB is an interdisciplinary and intracultural research space designed to explore the potential of gestural-oriented Performing Arts aiming to contribute constructively to a society in constant process of change. Invited are artists of all disciplines who want to readjust, sharpen and shape their own artistic language in the context of social and political evolution. Also invited are decision-makers of the educational, economical, political and the social media sector who want to gain inspiration by the particular means of production, creation, and reflection of Performing Arts, to shape the present and the future in a productive and innovative way .

Beginning in autumn 2019, Prof. Roland Matthies will be offering a series of three to four MASTER CLASSES each academic year on various subjects, leading eventually to a Postgraduate Diploma Course "Arts in Context" scheduled to start in 2022.

The classes will be held in English.

Dates and topics will be published on ibugi.de

If you are interested in participating, please send a short CV, photo and letter of motivation (one page) to

Prof. Roland Matthies, University of Music and Performing Arts Hamburg, Harvestehuder Weg 12, 20148 Hamburg or rolandmatthies@aol.com

The number of participants is limited. Generally no course fee will be charged..